

The Spring/Summer 2019 Issue of Y MAGAZINE is now available online.

Members and subscribers must log in to ontarioplanners.ca to view archived issues.

"Climate change is no longer a prophecy waiting to happen. It's already here. RPPs know this and have been at the forefront of the climate change conversation for some time now." - OPPI President Jason Ferrigan, RPP

Log into your Member Profile to read our Spring/Summer issue of Y Magazine as we explore the issue of climate change and what RPP's and others are doing in communities across Ontario to tackle this challenge.

FEATURED IN THIS ISSUE:

Recommended actions from the C40 Climate Leadership Group

BY DAVID MILLER

Growing resilience in Durham
Region's agricultural sector

BY KRISTY KILBOURNE, RPP AND DORAN HOGE

Superior adaptation by nature: Thunder Bay isn't sleeping on climate change

BY AMY COOMES AND GRANT
MASON

Tracking greenhouse gas emissions in London

BY JOHN FLEMING, RPP AND KELLY
SCHERR

New models for working together in Waterloo Region

BY KATE HAGERMAN, RPP

Combating heat in parks and basement flooding in Windsor

BY KARINA RICHTERS

The Wawa Energy Plan: A small northern community's effort to prepare for the climate ahead

BY MAURY O'NEILL

Planners championing natural asset management help prepare cities for climate change

BY MICHELLE MOLNAR AND ROY BROOKE

An urban watershed approach to climate resilience

BY CHANDRA SHARMA, RPP AND JOHN MACKENZIE, RPP

R-Hauz: Affordable, mid-density housing that's energy efficient to build and live in

BY CAROLYN CAMILLERI

...and much more!!

---

STAY CONNECTED:

Follow Y Magazine on Social Media

#YMagazine

Not A Subscriber? Subscription information can be found here.
Sign up here to stay informed about OPPI activities and key planning issues

Copyright © 2019 Ontario Professional Planners Institute. All rights reserved. Privacy Policy